TAKES SECOND RACE

RELIANCE DEFEATS SHAMROCK III. BY NARROW MARGIN OVER TRIANGULAR COURSE.

PRETTY AND HARD FOUGHT

CONTEST IS CLOSE AND EXCITING FROM THE START UNTIL THE FINISH.

BRITISH SKIPPER BUNGLES

SENDS THE CHALLENGER ACROSS THE STARTING LINE NINETEEN SECONDS LATE.

New York, Aug. 26.—In a glorious whole-sail breeze, over a triangular course, ten miles to a leg, the fleet-footed cup defender Reliance again Tuesday showed her heels to Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, taking the second race of the cup series of 1903 by the narrow margin of 1 minute and 19 seconds.

It was as pretty and hard a fought contest as has ever been sailed off Sandy Hook and had the wind not fallen during the last ten minutes, the record for the course, 3 hours, 12 minutes and 15 seconds, made by Columbia two years ago in her race against Shamrock II, would have been broken. As it was, Reliance sailed the thirty miles within 2 minutes and 39 seconds of the record, which speaks wonders for her speed in the wind that was blowing. Reliance's victory, narrow as it was, would have been even smaller had not Captain Wringe, the skipper of the British ship, Bungled the Start, sending his craft over the line nineteen seconds after the last gun, and handicapping her to that extent. At every point of sailing the defender's superiority was demonstrated. She gained 1 minute and 51 seconds in windward work, 40 seconds on the run to the second mark, and 45 seconds on the close reach for home.

Based upon the magnificent showing she has made in the two races already sailed, it is the belief of many experts that the cup is safe, and that it will take something better than Fife's latest creation to even budge it. An assemblage of excursion vessels almost as large as that of last Saturday poured down through the Narrows and out into the broad Atlantic to witness the vanishing glory of the challenger.

The excursion fleet, like a floating city built upon the floor of the ocean, lined up rail to rail in a great semicircle to witness the start. The course, a beat due south into the wind for ten miles, then a broad reach or run as the case might be, off toward the Choptank and thence home again to the old red hulled lightship, had been set.

Barr Outgeneraled Wringe. The spectators watched the jockeying for the start with eager interest. To the uninitiated it was hair raising to see what close company the giant single stickers kept. It seemed momentarily as if the spars and hulls would clash, but they wheeled and circled like gulls, tacking, gibing and putting, about with wonderful ease and grace. At last when they bounded across the line, close-hauled, for the third time, it was seen that the American skipper by his extremely clever work had again outgeneraled his rival and secured the weather gauge. Not only was the challenger's captain defeated in his effort to secure the windward berth, but he actually failed to cross in time to save a handicap, an almost unpardonable sin in a cup contest. Barr never relinquished his advantage after the start, holding the challenger under his lee all the way to the first mark.

As the clean limbed racers got farther out, the weight of the wind steadily increased, and the waves began to spill froth from their green crests. Both boats, with every stitch of canvas set, smashed into the seas, heeling down in the puffs under the press of thousands of yards of light canvas until their lee rails were Awash in the Foaming Brine. Their crews, piled up to weather, were repeatedly deluged with the showers of spray sent aloft by their shark-like bows.

Slowly but surely the thousands aboard the observation fleet saw that the Reliance was gaining, opening a wider and wider strength of water between herself and the challenger. The excursion fleet does not go to the first mark in obedience to the regulations laid down to govern its movements. As soon as the Reliance rounded, the patrol fleet blew their whistles and clanging bells in the engine room sent the whole fleet at full speed to leeward of the last leg of the course. There the vast concourse of steam craft lay wallowing in the trough of the sea until the yachts, howling along at a terrific pace, turned the second mark. Reliance sailed this leg of ten miles in 56 minutes and 20 seconds. Then the fleet started for the finish line, steaming a course parallel with that of the flying yachts. This last leg was also Covered at Roaring Speed. Reliance still increasing her lead, from her wake streaming a lee a path of dancing white on the deep blue bosom of the sparkling sea. The guide boat sent ahead to show the course was too slow, although everything aboard of her was wide open, and Reliance passed her before the line was reached. All the ocean-going tugs and many of the steam yachts were left astern in the mad race. Just before the finish the wind died down, but Reliance went across in ample time to win, having covered the ten miles in 57 minutes and 40 seconds. There followed the usual riot of whistles, mingled with the wail of sirens, the clamor of bells, the exultant shouts of patriots and the booming of cannon. Shamrock was about a mile astern and crossed 4 minutes and 40 seconds later to a repetition of the riot. It was a hard day for the overworked newspaper reporters. The atmosphere above the triangular course was beaten into a hopeless confusion by rival wireless telegraph companies so that the Marconi system was available but for a single message throughout the entire day.

J. P. Morgan's yacht Corsair collided with the steamer Monmouth during the race of the vessels for New York harbor. Little damage was done, and no one was injured. Sir Thomas Still Hopes to Win. After the race Sir Thomas Lipton said:

"You have all seen the results, and the only thing I can say is that we did better today than in the last race, which is hopeful. I figure my defeat at a little over one minute. If I make as much progress in the next as I did in this over the last I will be a bit ahead in the finish of the third race. I was more than pleased with the way my own boat was handled today. It is hard to admit it, but the best boat won. Perhaps with more wind at the finish the result might have been different. But I don't want to throw any cold water on the victor. It is hard to win every race in such a series and hope our turn will come next."

Captain Barr said: "That's number two. Now we will get ready for the third."

Lord Shaftesbury said: "We are hooked. The Reliance is jolly well the best boat."

C. Oliver Iselin said: "I don't suppose anybody ever saw two boats better handled than those were today. It would seem, however, that the Reliance has proved her superiority in all kinds of weather and under all conditions."

REPUBLIC WIPED OUT.

Little Neutral District in Europe Acquired by Belgium.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—Altenberg, or Neutral-Moresnel, the little neutral district covering one and one-half square miles and having a population of some 2,500 souls, has ceased to be Prussia having surrendered her claims, covering from the Napoleonic period, to Belgium, in view of a cash consideration that at present is not disclosed. This nook of territory where Holland, Belgium and Prussia meet, belonged to Austria from 1793 to 1814. Following the Napoleonic settlement both Belgium and Prussia claimed Moresnel.

They agreed in 1866 to let the inhabitants rule themselves and since then Moresnel has been practically a republic governed by an elected mayor and ten councilmen, the statutes being the code Napoleon. The inhabitants had free use of the stamps of either country, trade was absolutely free and the people were exempt from military service.

Company to Be Reorganized.

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—The Consolidated Lake Superior company, which is having difficulty in raising funds, is to be reorganized, owing to the failure of the stockholders to subscribe to the proposed issue of $15,000,000 in bonds.

KRUSCHEVO IN RUINS

ONCE BEAUTIFUL CITY FIRED AND PILLAGED BY BULGARIANS AND TURKS.

THE DECAYING BODIES OF THE SLAIN BEING GNAWED BY DOGS AND PIGS.

Monastir, European Turkey, Aug. 26.—The once beautiful city of Kruschevo is a heap of ruins. The women and children are homeless, exposed to the weather and famine. The town is rendered uninhabitable by the odor of corpses, which are being gnawed by dogs and pigs. The Turkish authorities refusing to allow them to be removed, under the pretext that an inquest will be held.

Kruschevo is situated on the summit of a hill eight hours distant and to the west of Monastir. It contained 2,000 houses and 10,000 inhabitants, mostly Vlachs, calling themselves Greeks. There were only 100 poor Bulgarian houses. The Vlachs are prosperous merchants who travel abroad on business, leaving their families at home.

After making fortunes abroad by their diligence and economy they return to spend their wealth in Kruschevo, where they own fine houses, furniture and jewels. The Turkish inhabitants of the surrounding villages have long envied the prosperity of Kruschevo.

Warnings Were Ignored.

The Macedonian committee, in connection with Bulgarian bands, have been completing arrangements during several months with a view to occupying the town. In July last the authorities of Kruschevo, observing the threatening movement, begged the vail of Monastir to send reinforcements, as the garrison of thirty soldiers could not cope with an insurgent attack. These warnings were ignored.

On Aug. 2, the day fixed for the Bulgarian attack on Kruschevo, while five marriages were being celebrated in the Greek church, a number of Komitajis, by prearrangement, remained hidden in the church and were locked in by the sacristan on conclusion of the ceremonies. At 10 o'clock at night they sounded an alarm by ringing the church bells. Simultaneously, a band of 300 insurgents, headed by Petroff, entered the town, discharging their rifles.

The terrified inhabitants remained indoors. The band first burned the residence of the mudir and massacred the garrison of Turkish soldiers and the officials of the town, but the invaders spared the Turkish harems.

On the following morning the Komitajis established a provisional government and instituted a new police and municipality. They killed the Albanians, who they believed had betrayed the plans of the committee. The notables of the town were compelled to contribute $40,000 to the revolutionary fund.

Relief Force Repulsed.

The Bulgarian villagers in the neighborhood, hearing that Kruschevo was in the hands of the insurgents, entered the town and demanded ammunition, which, however, was unobtainable. The provisional government constructed a rampart enclosing the town, and the inhabitants were ordered to melt down their spoons to make bullets. The Turks, informed of the capture of the town, sent from Perlep three squadrons of cavalry, which were attacked en route and compelled to retire with a loss of 100 killed. On Aug. 13, the Turks concentrated seven battalions and one battery on Kruschevo. They made an offer to the Komitajis to allow the women and children to leave the town. This proposal was declined and the bombardment began.

The Komitajis quickly abandoned the town and escaped to the neighboring forest, where pursuit was impossible. The Turks entered the town, and guided by Turkish villagers from the neighborhood, attacked the houses of the Greek notables and ordered the inmates to be searched and stripped. They seized the money and jewels and ravaged the women, those who resisted being killed. A Greek priest who sought to protect his daughter was killed. The girl's earrings were torn out and her hand was chopped off to secure a bracelet. When the houses had been pillaged the Turkish peasants loaded their horses with whatever the soldiers left and the residences were burned. The sack of Kruschevo lasted three days, during which time the women and children remained without food and shelter and at the mercy of the soldiers and the Hashi-bazoghs.

JOHNSON FORCES IN CONTROL. Old State Committee Decides Contests in Their Favor.

Columbus, O., Aug. 26.—The preliminary meetings Tuesday afternoon and night of the Democratic state convention were favorable to Johnson as against Zimmerman for governor. The old state committee in the afternoon by a vote of 14 to 7, decided all contests in favor of the Johnson men.

This allowed the delegates from Cleveland to vote at the district meeting later in the evening and prevented the Zimmerman delegates from voting in the same. This assured Johnson control of all the committees and convention.

The new state central committee organized at night with W. L. Findler of Keosauqua as chairman, and E. C. Madigan of Cleveland as secretary.

Both Johnson men. The Johnson men controlled all the committee meetings at night as firmly as the afternoon meetings, but the Zimmerman men fought at every point and will present minority reports to the convention on everything.

Mr. Zimmerman refused to entertain a proposition for his endorsement as senator if Johnson's nomination were made unanimous.

CUPID AND STRIKES.

Marriage Recommended as Panacea For Labor Troubles.

Cupid's right bower, Mayor Knotts of Hammond, Ind., has again championed the cause of matrimony. Bachelors, says the mayor, are a detriment to a community, while married men are valuable assets. In an appeal just issued he asked the merchants and manufacturers of the city to employ married men only. Mayor Knotts declares that single men are the chief fomenters of labor troubles; that they are reckless, and as a rule do a town more harm than good.

Mayor Knotts a year ago offered to marry free all couples residing in Hammond and to give them moral and other support in establishing their homes.

In his letter Mayor Knotts argued that during the years of labor trouble in Hammond it had been notorious that the single men were the first to start trouble and to talk strike. Married men, he declared, are more patient and long suffering and less likely to go out on unjustified strikes.

The mayor states that single men do not make as good citizens. He declares they are reckless, inclined to wastefulness and spending; that they come into a town when a new enterprise is started, and usually, after a short and reckless career, depart for some other town, leaving done the town no good and leaving only unpaid bills and friends around the saloons.

The mayor closes his letter with an appeal to the manufacturers and merchants to call a meeting and take steps looking to the employment of married men only in their factories and stores.

This, he declares, will end the labor troubles of the town and raise the standard of citizenship, give stability of purpose to the town itself and do a lasting good. Married men, he concludes, become permanent citizens, working for the good of the community. He argues that the manufacturers, having received great benefits from the town of Hammond, should reciprocate by employing the married men and giving them preference at all times.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.

Exhibition This Year Promises to Excel All Others.

St. Paul, Aug. 26.—The Minnesota state fair will again be opened for public inspection Monday, Aug. 31. As a result of months of hard work the announcement is made that the state fair of 1903 will far excel all those which have gone before.

The complete programme of the fair has just been compiled. It is of course largely an amusement programme. The other features of the fair—the live stock exhibitions of national scope, the great exhibit of farm implements and machinery—the largest ever made at any place, the exhibits of manufactures, the dairy exhibit, the agricultural display, the fruits and flowers, the poultry, the bees and honey, the sheep and swine—all these need no programme. It is taken for granted that they are "on the programme" from morning to night each day of the fair.

President Cosgrove announces that the fair will be ready for sightseers at 9 o'clock Monday morning, when it first opens. This makes Monday the best day to see the fair, especially as on that day Senator C. W. Fairbanks of Indiana makes the opening address and Dan Patch goes against his own new world record of 1:59.

COUNCIL DECIDED

TO MOVE SLOWLY

Will not Enter into Contract for New Sewer for Time Being.

PLANS MAY BE ALL CHANGED.

Committee is Appointed to Take Matter up with State Board of Health.

There was a special meeting of the city council last night in chambers, the prime object of the meeting being to consider the sewer question and to take some action regarding the contract and bond of Judd Wright who was awarded the contract to put in the Second ward sewer at the last meeting.

The city council has had a hard matter to deal with in this sewerage problem and it has been a sort of enigma from the start, but it is generally believed that the members have thus far acted wisely and have left no stone unturned to give the city a first class sewerage system. There are questions which have arisen, however, which the members of the council could not well foresee, and one of these, the most important one perhaps, is the opposition the state board of health has taken to the emptying of raw sewerage into the Mississippi river. At first this seemed like a hardship on Brainerd, in view of the fact that all other cities along the river from north to south are emptying their raw sewerage into the river, but the members of the council looked at the question from another light and they believe that it will be well to move cautiously.

The council was just about to enter into contract with Mr. Wright and approve his bond, when some members of the council, the first one President Crust, thought it might be wise not to take this action until the state board of health is more clearly understood on the matter. It will be remembered that letters were read from Secretary Bracken, of the state board, which advised the council not to enter into a contract for the construction of a sewer under the present plan. Another letter was received stating that the board would not approve of the system at all, the principal objection being made to the emptying of raw sewerage into the Mississippi, and still another communication was received in which it was stated that the state board would soon serve notice on the proper authorities of the city condemning the sewerage system now in vogue on the same grounds.

In view of this strenuous stand on the part of the state board of health there were some members of the council who believed that some better understanding of the matter should be had before proceeding further. To this end several of the local physicians were called in last night to express their views on the question and to offer suggestions.

Dr. Camp, who has during his journeys in the east made some little study of the matter, gave some valuable information. He thought that the state board was moving in the right direction, and stated that there was not much doubt but that this body had inaugurated a plan which, when worked out, would stop the discharge of raw sewerage into the Mississippi, not only at Brainerd, but at all other points along the river.

The doctor favored the septic tank system as a proper means of eradicating all the trouble. He had seen the workings of this system in the east and had learned somewhat of the cost. He thought that just such a system could be put in here with hardly any greater cost. The only contingent upon this would be the matter of surface water, which Alderman Rowley thought would have to be carried off by a separate sewer, thus entailing the extra expense of putting in a sewer for this purpose. Dr. Camp thought that the natural conditions in a sandy soil as in this vicinity that the surface water would take care of itself; that the grades could be so made that the water could be carried away easily. Dr. Camp spoke of the great danger of emptying raw sewerage into the river and from his own personal experience had known of death having resulted from using water thus polluted.

Dr. Thabes was also present at the meeting and read a letter from Dr. Bracken which was along the line of the letters read from Dr. Bracken addressed to the city council. The doctor thought it would be wise to proceed slowly in the matter; that the state board certainly meant business and would follow out the plans mapped out, and believed that the time had come when the board was about to make war on all cities emptying raw sewerage into the Mississippi, and that the action taken in regard to Brainerd was not on account of any local cause.

Dr. Beise also spoke at length on the matter and offered some good suggestions, agreeing in almost every particular with the other two doctors.

Finally a motion prevailed that the city clerk be instructed to write Dr. Bracken and see if a meeting of the entire state board could not be arranged for to meet with a committee from Cockeysville, Md., Aug. 2.—The rear coach attached to the York and Baltimore accommodation train on the Northern Central railroad caught fire near this station Monday afternoon and was partially demolished. A dozen passengers, including several women and children, were painfully burned or injured by jumping from the train, but no one is thought to have been fatally injured. The explosion of a gasoline lamp caused the blaze.

COUNCIL DECIDED TO MOVE SLOWLY

Will not Enter into Contract for New Sewer for Time Being.

PLANS MAY BE ALL CHANGED.

Committee is Appointed to Take Matter up with State Board of Health.

There was a special meeting of the city council last night in chambers, the prime object of the meeting being to consider the sewer question and to take some action regarding the contract and bond of Judd Wright who was awarded the contract to put in the Second ward sewer at the last meeting.

The city council has had a hard matter to deal with in this sewerage problem and it has been a sort of enigma from the start, but it is generally believed that the members have thus far acted wisely and have left no stone unturned to give the city a first class sewerage system. There are questions which have arisen, however, which the members of the council could not well foresee, and one of these, the most important one perhaps, is the opposition the state board of health has taken to the emptying of raw sewerage into the Mississippi river. At first this seemed like a hardship on Brainerd, in view of the fact that all other cities along the river from north to south are emptying their raw sewerage into the river, but the members of the council looked at the question from another light and they believed that it will be well to move cautiously.

The council was just about to enter into contract with Mr. Wright and approve his bond, when some members of the council, the first one President Crust, thought it might be wise not to take this action until the state board of health is more clearly understood on the matter. It will be remembered that letters were read from Secretary Bracken, of the state board, which advised the council not to enter into a contract for the construction of a sewer under the present plan. Another letter was received stating that the board would not approve of the system at all, the principal objection being made to the emptying of raw sewerage into the Mississippi, and still another communication was received in which it was stated that the state board would soon serve notice on the proper authorities of the city condemning the sewerage system now in vogue on the same grounds.

In view of this strenuous stand on the part of the state board of health there were some members of the council who believed that some better understanding of the matter should be had before proceeding further. To this end several of the local physicians were called in last night to express their views on the question and to offer suggestions.

Dr. Camp, who has during his journeys in the east made some little study of the matter, gave some valuable information. He thought that the state board was moving in the right direction, and stated that there was not much doubt but that this body had inaugurated a plan, which, when worked out, would stop the discharge of raw sewerage into the Mississippi, not only at Brainerd, but at all other points along the river.

The doctor favored the septic tank system as a proper means of eradicating all the trouble. He had seen the workings of this system in the east and had learned somewhat of the cost. He thought that just such a system could be put in here with hardly any greater cost. The only contingent upon this would be the matter of surface water, which Alderman Rowley thought would have to be carried off by a separate sewer, thus entailing the extra expense of putting in a sewer for this purpose. Dr. Camp thought that the natural conditions in a sandy soil as in this vicinity that the surface water would take care of itself; that the grades could be so made that the water could be carried away easily. Dr. Camp spoke of the great danger of emptying raw sewerage into the river and from his own personal experience had known of death having resulted from using water thus polluted.

Dr. Thabes was also present at the meeting and read a letter from Dr. Bracken which was along the line of the letters read from Dr. Bracken addressed to the city council. The doctor thought it would be wise to proceed slowly in the matter; that the state board certainly meant business and would follow out the plans mapped out, and believed that the time had come when the board was about to make war on all cities emptying raw sewerage into the Mississippi, and that the action taken in regard to Brainerd was not on account of any local cause.

Dr. Beise also spoke at length on the matter and offered some good suggestions, agreeing in almost every particular with the other two doctors.

Finally a motion prevailed that the city clerk be instructed to write Dr. Bracken and see if a meeting of the entire state board could not be arranged for to meet with a committee from

HARROWING TALE OF CHILD'S DEATH BY ITS MOTHER, AN EYE WITNESS

HURLED IT INTO RIVER
Coroner's Jury Finds
Mother and two Men Guilty.

Intense interest has been taken in the case of the murder by drowning of little Lillie Adelaide Williams in the Mississippi river on Sunday morning and as the developments are made by the prosecution and the details of the horrible night are brought to light, the wonder is that the hand of violence has not before this laid hold on at least the two men, John Burridge and George Dill, the brutes who are thought to have been largely responsible for the horrible ending of a poor, innocent little two-year old girl for no other reason than their plans to satisfy their brutish passions might be better carried out. So far as known neither one of the men have made a statement since they were incarcerated in the county jail and every effort has been made to keep them away from anyone who might give them any information about the proceedings in the case, but there is a network of testimony being woven that is damaging in the extreme and to an outsider it would seem almost impossible for them to escape the punishment which is thought should be meted out to them. It is understood that neither one of the men have been informed of the finding of the body in the river.

Mrs. Williams, the mother of the dead child, is very talkative at the jail today and has all kinds of things to say regarding the life she has led during the past few months.

The inquest in D. M. Clark & Co's morgue was finished yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Mrs. Williams was the only witness placed on the stand besides the two doctors, Thabes and Reimstad, who held the post mortem. Her story told before the coroner's jury was one of the most sensational that has been heard in this city for a long time. She did not seem to be at all worried at her position and as she sat within arms length of the body of her babe which was laid out on a stretcher the scene did not seem to move her at all. Her face never changed color and she would smile and nod her head when something was said which she approved. It was a heart-rending scene to those who stood about.

MOTHER'S HORRIBLE TALE.

The following was the testimony of Mrs. Mary Williams:

"My name is Mary Williams and I live in Brainerd. I have lived here for five years. I am married to Albert Williams and I had one little girl. She would have been three years old Oct. 6 next, and her name is Lillie Adelaide Williams. My husband is in Grandin, N. D. He left for there a week ago Monday. I saw my little daughter last at 3 o'clock Sunday morning on the banks of the Mississippi, between the wagon bridge and the railroad bridge. I was about ten feet from the river. I was left in a clump of jack pine trees on the bank of the river. George Dill was with me. On Saturday night I took supper at Mr. Hill's on Fourth street, but I had been staying at 1102, South Sixth street, with my husband. I stayed at Mr. Hill's until after supper and went down on Laurel street, down by Luken & Dyke-man's grocery store, where I met Jack Burridge. He said he wanted me to go up to the bank; that he had got his check and wanted to get it cashed at Dee Holden's. He said he would try to find work for me. He went down by the No. 1 saloon on his way to Dee Holden's. We met on the corner and it was about 7:30 o'clock. After we left there we went down the alley between Laurel and Front streets, the three of us, George Dill having come along. Jack Burridge said, 'go and make away with that girl—kid and come with us boys.' The little girl was with me in the alley and I told him he could not get the girl away from me. I said what do you mean by wanting to kill the child. He said, 'I did not say to kill her, but to make away with her.' I told him wherever I went my child would go with me. Then we went down the street to the Catholic church. I was carrying the baby and went to the city park. Jack Burridge and I were on the east side of the park at this time. George Dill had the baby on the west side of the park. Burridge asked me where my husband was and I told him in Dakota. He asked me if my husband had taken good care of me and if I had any love for him, and I said I thought everything of my husband and that nobody could take his place and that I would not dispose of my child for anything. He asked me what I would think of him if he got rid of the child, and asked me if I would live with

him. I said I would never go out of this town. He said he would see to it that the child was made away with. I said, 'No sir, you never will.' I said I would stay by my child and work for it. He then went over across the park to where George Dill was where he stayed for ten minutes and I know nothing about what was said between them, and when he came back to me he said to Dill: 'You go and do what I told you and then bring her back to Holden's. There is a crowd of six of us and we want to see her.' I positively refused to go. Then Burridge said to Dill to take me home and let me have a place there to stay until my husband came home from Dakota, and he would pay for my board if it was six dollars a week. Burridge left and I went with George Dill up nearly to his home and I took the child with me. When we got part way to his house he said we had better not go in because his mother is a kind of a funny woman. She will think some thing is between us, and he said I could come with him and he would get me another place to stay all night. I went with him and from there we went across the wagon bridge and past the hospital and took the track down for about a mile past the section house. Dill wanted me to go in the box car and stay there all night. I told him I would not; it was no place for a woman to be in a box car. I told him I wanted to go back to town and he would not let me and wanted me to stay there awhile. We stayed down on one of the flat cars until the 12 o'clock passenger went by. He wanted me to get down on the grass on the other side of the car so that no one would see us. We got down and stayed there. After the train went past we came across the river and went down on the bank of the river between the two bridges. He said we would stay there for the rest of the night and go home in the morning to his place. This was about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. We stayed there and talked. He was asking me the same questions that Burridge asked me in the park. The baby was along with me all the time. It was about 2 o'clock in the morning when we got through talking. The baby was asleep. She awoke and she began to cry. She said she was hungry. She had not had anything to eat since supper time Saturday night, and I told her we would go home and get something to eat in a little while, and she kissed me. Dill said that I would never go home with the child and I wanted to know why I could not take my child. He said because I have been paid to murder this child and I am going to do it. She was lying in my arms and he took her violently out of my arms and asked me to go down to the river with him. I said I could not go and see my baby thrown into the river. He then took her and he gave her three swings and let her go right into the river, she was asleep at the time. I cried and I said I was going to holler for help. He said if I made a sound or mentioned this to anyone, officers or any friends, he would murder me in cold blood right there. The baby did not cry when he took it away from me; she was asleep. I asked Dill if he was going to leave me alone after he had done such a cold hearted deed and he said 'yes, I have no more time for you. I have done what I will be paid for.' He then went up the wagon bridge, up the steep bank and home. The next time I saw him was about 9 or 10 o'clock Sunday morning when I went down to his house to take his vest home. I stayed on the bank of the river until this time. I met a man on the bridge and wanted to know if he had seen my baby. I had known Burridge for five years but not well until that night. I wanted him to go with me and look for the baby after I went to his house, but he said, 'I want to wait until after breakfast.' After we ate we went down to the river and looked for the baby but could not find her. I met Jack Burridge in front of the Salvation Army hall on Sunday afternoon and he said, 'you are a h— of a woman to tell Chief Sargent to look for me.'

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

The coroner's jury was not long in deliberating after they had heard the testimony and signed the following verdict:

"The said Lillian Adelaide Williams came to her death on the morning of August 23, 1903, about 3 o'clock, by reason of being thrown into the Mississippi river, at Brainerd, Crow Wing county, Minn., where she died by drowning, and the jury find that John Burridge, George Dill, and Mary Williams are, in the opinion of the jury, guilty of the death of Lillian Adelaide Williams."

There is not much doubt now, with the evidence in hand that it will go pretty hard with all three, Mrs. Williams and the two men, Burridge and Dill. It is generally believed that they have all had something to do with the death of the child.

John Burridge has lived in this city for a long time. He is a laborer and has usually been a tender for masons in the city. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burridge, who live at 921, Ivy street. The father of the young man is employed with the Fisher-Budd Fuel company.

George Dill is a mason and has been living with his mother, Mrs. Jane Dill and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Whitney, corner 10th and Fir street. Mr. Whitney stated to a DISPATCH representative this morning that Dill had been in Brainerd only since last January. At the time he sent him money to come here, thinking that he might do well and save his money. He never did amount to much, according to his brother-in-law, after he came here and lived a sort of shiftless life. Mr. Whitney stated that when Dill got home Sunday morning he went straight to bed and slept like a log until called, when Mrs. Williams arrived at the house about 10 o'clock. He heard the conversation between the two. Mrs. Williams asked Dill to come with her and look for her baby and he seemed very much surprised, and said he did not care to go, but did finally go after he ate his breakfast.

Little of good is known of the life of Mrs. Mary Williams. She was married to William Williams at Morris some time ago and they moved to this city. She is a full cousin of Williams, her husband. Little is known of her ancestors, it being stated that she spent most of her younger days in a reform school. While at school she was taught the lower branches of study and also is an adept at needle work, etc. Withal she is slightly unbalanced, it is thought, and is not wholly responsible for her acts. She is a tall, angular, ill-kept woman and her look of imbecility would attract the attention of any one at once.

She seems to have no alarm about the outcome of the case and the odd thing about the whole matter is the fact that she has put forth little or no effort to get her husband. He is working in North Dakota and his brother stated this morning that he did not know exactly near what town. Word was sent to Grandin but no reply was received from there.

Much interest is being taken in the outcome of the hearing on Thursday.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

S. MILLER KENT.

The following is part of a lengthy criticism taken from the Duluth News-Tribune, of yesterday:

"Edward E. Rose's 'Fighting Bob' was tried on the dog last night—Duluth being the dog—and was raptuously received. S. Miller Kent greeted a household of his old friends at the Lyceum, and made good in a thoroughly finished manner. The role he played so well last evening was a congenial one, with plenty of chance for the display of his talents. Mr. Kent is what might be called a dramatic individuality. It is said that mannerisms are bad—but his are not, very fetching on the contrary. The supporting company is excellent and finely balanced.

"The women of the piece are all good looking. Julia Marie Taylor, as Princess Dulcinea, is tall and willowy and dignified. She has no lack of lively appreciation of her character, and gives a charming account of it throughout.

"The piece is handsomely set. The first act was given seven curtain calls, and Mr. Kent was compelled to make a speech, after the second act. From this viewpoint, it looks as if Mr. Rose has launched a winner on the dramatic world and chosen the proper people to accomplish its success."

Mr. Kent will bring his excellent attraction to the Brainerd theatre tomorrow night.

"AN AMERICAN HOBO."

An interesting American play, portrayed by real actors, piloted by a veteran manager, are the promises held forth by U. D. Newell, who will present for the first time in this city at the Brainerd opera house his sensational comedy drama, "An American Hobo." In this play the author, E. E. Kidder, is said to have out done himself, for in this piece he gives us deft character delineations that, we are told, almost rank co-equal with Charles Dickens' creations, so true to nature are they said to be.

"DOWN MOBILE."

"Down Mobile" will be presented at the Brainerd theatre next Monday, Aug. 31. It is one of Lincoln J. Carter's most telling plays and starts out on this its fourth successful season with new scenery, effects and with added strength in the cast. To those who saw this play last season no words of explanation is necessary but it is enough to say that those who will see it for the first time will not regret going.

MISS MAY MARKELL of London, Ontario, Canada, is a beautiful girl who knows what suffering is and Wine of Cardui has brought her back to health. She is one of the social favorites of her home and her recovery to health has permitted her to enjoy the company of her many friends instead of lying on a bed of sickness and suffering. For the health she now enjoys she gives credit to Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"I have found Wine of Cardui an excellent remedy for female trouble. I suffered for three years with terrible bearing-down pains at the menstrual period. I could hardly stand on my feet and was never real well. Wine of Cardui was the only medicine that I could depend on to do me any good, as I tried several with no success. Wine of Cardui cured me and I have now enjoyed perfect health for two years, and give you all the credit for I know you deserve it."

"My name is Mary Williams and I live in Brainerd. I have lived here for five years. I am married to Albert Williams and I had one little girl. She would have been three years old Oct. 6 next, and her name is Lillian Adelaide Williams. My husband is in Grandin, N. D. He left for there a week ago Monday. I saw my little daughter last at 3 o'clock Sunday morning on the banks of the Mississippi, between the wagon bridge and the railroad bridge. I was about ten feet from the river. I was left in a clump of jack pine trees on the bank of the river. George Dill was with me. On Saturday night I took supper at Mr. Hill's on Fourth street, but I had been staying at 1102, South Sixth street, with my husband. I stayed at Mr. Hill's until after supper and went down on Laurel street, down by Luken & Dyke-man's grocery store, where I met Jack Burridge. He said he wanted me to go up to the bank; that he had got his check and wanted to get it cashed at Dee Holden's. He said he would try to find work for me. He went down by the No. 1 saloon on his way to Dee Holden's. We met on the corner and it was about 7:30 o'clock. After we left there we went down the alley between Laurel and Front streets, the three of us, George Dill having come along. Jack Burridge said, 'go and make away with that girl—kid and come with us boys.' The little girl was with me in the alley and I told him he could not get the girl away from me. I said what do you mean by wanting to kill the child. He said, 'I did not say to kill her, but to make away with her.' I told him wherever I went my child would go with me. Then we went down the street to the Catholic church. I was carrying the baby and went to the city park. Jack Burridge and I were on the east side of the park at this time. George Dill had the baby on the west side of the park. Burridge asked me where my husband was and I told him in Dakota. He asked me if my husband had taken good care of me and if I had any love for him, and I said I thought everything of my husband and that nobody could take his place and that I would not dispose of my child for anything. He asked me what I would think of him if he got rid of the child, and asked me if I would live with

him. I said I would never go out of this town. He said he would see to it that the child was made away with. I said, 'No sir, you never will.' I said I would stay by my child and work for it. He then went over across the park to where George Dill was where he stayed for ten minutes and I know nothing about what was said between them, and when he came back to me he said to Dill: 'You go and do what I told you and then bring her back to Holden's. There is a crowd of six of us and we want to see her.' I positively refused to go. Then Burridge said to Dill to take me home and let me have a place there to stay until my husband came home from Dakota, and he would pay for my board if it was six dollars a week. Burridge left and I went with George Dill up nearly to his home and I took the child with me. When we got part way to his house he said we had better not go in because his mother is a kind of a funny woman. She will think something is between us, and he said I could come with him and he would get me another place to stay all night. I went with him and from there we went across the wagon bridge and past the hospital and took the track down for about a mile past the section house. Dill wanted me to go in the box car and stay there all night. I told him I would not; it was no place for a woman to be in a box car. I told him I wanted to go back to town and he would not let me and wanted me to stay there awhile. We stayed down on one of the flat cars until the 12 o'clock passenger went by. He wanted me to get down on the grass on the other side of the car so that no one would see us. We got down and stayed there. After the train went past we came across the river and went down on the bank of the river between the two bridges. He said we would stay there for the rest of the night and go home in the morning to his place. This was about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. We stayed there and talked. He was asking me the same questions that Burridge asked me in the park. The baby was along with me all the time. It was about 2 o'clock in the morning when we got through talking. The baby was asleep. She awoke and she began to cry. She said she was hungry. She had not had anything to eat since supper time Saturday night, and I told her we would go home and get something to eat in a little while, and she kissed me. Dill said that I would never go home with the child and I wanted to know why I could not take my child. He said because I have been paid to murder this child and I am going to do it. She was lying in my arms and he took her violently out of my arms and asked me to go down to the river with him. I said I could not go and see my baby thrown into the river. He then took her and he gave her three swings and let her go right into the river, she was asleep at the time. I cried and I said I was going to holler for help. He said if I made a sound or mentioned this to anyone, officers or any friends, he would murder me in cold blood right there. The baby did not cry when he took it away from me; she was asleep. I asked Dill if he was going to leave me alone after he had done such a cold hearted deed and he said 'yes, I have no more time for you. I have done what I will be paid for.' He then went up the wagon bridge, up the steep bank and home. The next time I saw him was about 9 or 10 o'clock Sunday morning when I went down to his house to take his vest home. I stayed on the bank of the river until this time. I met a man on the bridge and wanted to know if he had seen my baby. I had known Burridge for five years but not well until that night. I wanted him to go with me and look for the baby after I went to his house, but he said, 'I want to wait until after breakfast.' After we ate we went down to the river and looked for the baby but could not find her. I met Jack Burridge in front of the Salvation Army hall on Sunday afternoon and he said, 'you are a h— of a woman to tell Chief Sargent to look for me.'

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

The coroner's jury was not long in deliberating after they had heard the testimony and signed the following verdict:

"The said Lillian Adelaide Williams came to her death on the morning of August 23, 1903, about 3 o'clock, by reason of being thrown into the Mississippi river, at Brainerd, Crow Wing county, Minn., where she died by drowning, and the jury find that John Burridge, George Dill and Mary Williams are, in the opinion of the jury, guilty of the death of Lillian Adelaide Williams."

There is not much doubt now, with the evidence in hand that it will go pretty hard with all three, Mrs. Williams and the two men, Burridge and Dill. It is generally believed that they have all had something to do with the death of the child.

John Burridge has lived in this city for a long time. He is a laborer and has usually been a tender for masons in the city. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burridge, who live at 921, Ivy street. The father of the young man is employed with the Fisher-Budd Fuel company. George Dill is a mason and has been living with his mother, Mrs. Jane Dill and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Whitney, corner 10th and Fir street. Mr. Whitney stated to a DISPATCH representative this morning that Dill had been in Brainerd only since last January. At the time he sent him money to come here, thinking that he might do well and save his money. He never did amount to much, according to his brother-in-law, after he came here and lived a sort of shiftless life. Mr. Whitney stated that when Dill got home Sunday morning he went straight to bed and slept like a log until called, when Mrs. Williams arrived at the house about 10 o'clock. He heard the conversation between the two. Mrs. Williams asked Dill to come with her and look for her baby and he seemed very much surprised, and said he did not care to go, but did finally go after he ate his breakfast.

Little of good is known of the life of Mrs. Mary Williams. She was married to William Williams at Morris some time ago and they moved to this city. She is a full cousin of Williams, her husband. Little is known of her ancestors, it being stated that she spent most of her younger days in a reform school. While at school she was taught the lower branches of study and also is an adept at needle work, etc. Withal she is slightly unbalanced, it is thought, and is not wholly responsible for her acts. She is a tall, angular, ill-kept woman and her look of imbecility would attract the attention of any one at once.

She seems to have no alarm about the outcome of the case and the odd thing about the whole matter is the fact that she has put forth little or no effort to get her husband. He is working in North Dakota and his brother stated this morning that he did not know exactly near what town. Word was sent to Grandin but no reply was received from there.

Much interest is being taken in the outcome of the hearing on Thursday.

PEELED THE CLOTHES LINE.

Mrs. A. G. Anderson While Entertaining
Some Friends Loses $15 Worth of Clothing.

A few evenings ago while Mrs. A. G. Anderson, of East Brainerd, was entertaining some friends at an informal musicale, some sneak walked into the back yard and peeled the clothes line slick and clean. The thief got away with about $15 worth of some of the best clothes that Mrs. Anderson had. No arrests have been made yet.

HARD ON MOTHER.

Some Brainerd Mothers Know Well How Hard it is.

A mother's cares are never light, and it's no wonder. Backache and other kidney ills increase her daily burden. There is one sure way to make the burden lighter. Let a Brainerd mother show you how.

Mr. Chris. Henson, of 185 Oak street, says: "My little boy aged about 6 years was afflicted with kidney weakness. Like all such cases it was very troublesome at night. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and he gave no further evidence of the trouble. For this reason I give this remedy my endorsement."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

S. MILLER KENT.

The following is part of a lengthy criticism taken from the Duluth News-Tribune, of yesterday:

"Edward E. Rose's 'Fighting Bob' was tried on the dog last night—Duluth being the dog—and was raptuously received. S. Miller Kent greeted a household of his old friends at the Lyceum, and made good in a thoroughly finished manner. The role he played so well last evening was a congenial one, with plenty of chance for the display of his talents. Mr. Kent is what might be called a dramatic individuality. It is said that mannerisms are bad—but his are not, very fetching on the contrary. The supporting company is excellent and finely balanced.

"The women of the piece are all good looking. Julia Marie Taylor, as Princess Dulcinea, is tall and willowy and dignified. She has no lack of lively appreciation of her character, and gives a charming account of it throughout.

"The piece is handsomely set. The first act was given seven curtain calls, and Mr. Kent was compelled to make a speech, after the second act. From this viewpoint, it looks as if Mr. Rose has launched a winner on the dramatic world and chosen the proper people to accomplish its success."

Mr. Kent will bring his excellent attraction to the Brainerd theatre tomorrow night.

"AN AMERICAN HOBBO."

An interesting American play, portrayed by real actors, piloted by a veteran manager, are the promises held forth by U. D. Newell, who will present for the first time in this city at the Brainerd opera house his sensational comedy drama, "An American Hobbo." In this play the author, E. E. Kidder, is said to have out done himself, for in this piece he gives us deft character delineations that, we are told, almost rank co-equal with Charles Dickens' creations, so true to nature are they said to be.

"DOWN MOBILE."

"Down Mobile" will be presented at the Brainerd theatre next Monday, Aug. 31. It is one of Lincoln J. Carter's most telling plays and starts out on this its fourth successful season with new scenery, effects and with added strength in the cast. To those who saw this play last season no words of explanation is necessary but it is enough to say that those who will see it for the first time will not regret going.

MISS MAY MARKELL,

A Society Belle of London, Canada.

MISS MAY MARKELL

of London, Ontario, Canada, is a beautiful girl who knows what suffering is and Wine of Cardui has brought her back to health. She is one of the social favorites of her home and her recovery to health has permitted her to enjoy the company of her many friends instead of lying on a bed of sickness and suffering. For the health she now enjoys she gives credit to Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"I have found Wine of Cardui an excellent remedy for female trouble. It suffered for three years with terrible bearing-down pains at the menstrual period. I could hardly stand on my feet and was never real well. Wine of Cardui was the only medicine that I could depend on to do me any good, as I tried several with no success. Wine of Cardui cured me and I have now enjoyed perfect health for two years, and give you all the credit for I know you deserve it."

For a young girl Wine of Cardui is the best remedy to guide her through womanhood by starting the menstrual Thus Wine of Cardui is woman's best relief from youth to old age. A million women have secured blessed relief from their sufferings by taking this treatment. It relieves menstrual troubles in an incredibly short time. In a simple case of deranged menses Wine of Cardui never fails. To relieve disordered menses is to remove the cause of other female troubles. Any physician will tell you that to remove the cause of a disease renders the cure easy, in fact seldom fails to complete the cure. If you would have the same relief which Miss Markell secured try Wine of Cardui. You can take it without an examination and without any publicity whatever. You can take it in the privacy of your home and secure just as much benefit as if a doctor had prescribed it for you. Thousands of women are feeling the vigor of returning health by taking Wine of Cardui.

VESSELS IN DANGER

SEVERE STORM AT SANDY HOOK
IMPERILS CUP RACERS AND
OTHER YACHTS.

SEVERAL FATALITIES RESULT

HUGE DERRICK SWEEP INTO THE
WATER AND FOUR WORKMEN
ARE DROWNED.

New York, Aug. 26.—A terrible
northwest wind and electrical storm
struck Sandy Hook shortly after 5
o'clock Tuesday, and Shamrock III, and Reliance and a fleet of half a dozen fine yachts, including the Erin, C.
Oliver Iselin's Sunbeam and the Herrshoffs' Roamer were in great danger for a time. The yacht Eureka, breaking from her anchorage, was blown violently against a coal scow
and carried the scow before it. It seemed for a time that the tow boats would crash into Shamrock III, which lay almost in the path of the gale not
a hundred yards away, but they held
on until the wind abated.

Two steam yachts, the Giralda and the Alitta, anchored further out in the Horseshoe, were torn from their anchorage and came into bow and stern collision. The bowsprit of one crashed through the stern of the other
and the two thus locked, drifted before the wind dangerously near to the challenger.

The tug Cruiser saved them, pulling them apart and away from the other boats.

Reliance lay in a position more out
of danger.

The moorings of Shamrock III and Reliance held fast, though the wind threw their bows around into the face of the gale violently and they tugged
hard at their cables.

Watched With Anxiety.

Sir Thomas Lipton left the Erin before the storm broke and, with Colonels Smith, Burbank and Stewart viewed
the havoc in the bay anxiously from
the commander's headquarters on Sandy Hook.

Lightning flashed from the inky
black sky and the wind came like a cyclopic blast. Weather observers said the wind reached a velocity of
nearly forty-five knots.

The tug Guiding Star and Cruiser came to the rescue of the yachts and in a short time righted their tangled condition.

A small fishing sloop was blown up on the sand beach at the point of the Hook. Lifesavers went to the rescue, taking the crew of four off in safety.
The sloop was later taken off.

At Newark, N. J., during the storm the lights in Blaney's theater were extinguished and the audience, composed mainly of women and children, became
panic-stricken and rushed for the fire escapes, many of the women fainting
and being trampled on. Florence Kolrigel, aged six years, fell from a fire-escape platform and was probably fatally injured. No one else was seriously hurt, and after the panic
had subsided the audience resumed
their seats.

Four Workmen Drowned.

During the height of the storm, a huge derrick on the Central railroad
of New Jersey bridge across Newark bay from Bayonne to Elizabeth, was swept from its supports in the water,
carrying with it nine workmen.

Four of the men were drowned and several badly injured. At least sixty men were at work on the bridge, at a point about half a mile from the Bayonne shore. The top of the derrick was 180 feet from the water and nine men were working at various points upon the huge structure, Gustav Fisher of Bayonne being on the very top of it. Strange to say, he was about the only one to escape injury. Fisher realized that it was impossible for him to reach the bridge, so he clung
to the rigging, and fell into the center of the channel. When he came to the surface he swam ashore.

Mrs. John Holm and her sister, Miss Ragna Rasmussen of Brooklyn, lost their lives in Jamaica Bay. They went sailing in a cat boat with Mr.
Holm and the boat was upset about half a mile off shore. All three found it impossible to reach the boat and finally Holm started to swim ashore.
He was picked up by a sail boat. The two women were taken from the water by a party in a steam launch, but they died without regaining consciousness.

HOT WAVE IN THE EAST.

Ten Prostrations Reported From the City of Washington.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The temperature on the street Tuesday was the highest since July 1, 1901, the thermometer at 4 o'clock registering 94 degrees. Ten prostrations from the heat were reported. None of them is likely to prove fatal.

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—With the exception of July 9, this city Tuesday experienced the hottest weather of the year, the temperature reaching a maximum of 94 degrees. One death was reported and a number of prostrations.
One death resulted from the heat at Pittsburg, where the thermometer registered 94, the hottest of the year.

TO COMBINE CREAMERIES.

Milwaukee Road Will Attempt to Centralize Those Along Its Route.

St. Paul, Aug. 26.—An effort is being made by the Milwaukee road to centralize and consolidate all the country creameries along its lines throughout Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The plan is to interest the dairy farmers in the butter manufacturing plants which are located in the large cities for their product and prompt payments. The railroad's reward will be the tariff derived from the shipment of the cream to the city creameries.

NAMES A FUSION TICKET.

Nebraska Democratic Convention Also Reaffirms Kansas City Platform.

Columbus, Neb., Aug. 26.—The Democratic convention, which met here
last night, named a fusion ticket,
headed by Judge J. J. Sullivan (Dem.)
of this city, for supreme justice, and William O. Jones of Adams county, and Dr. E. O. Weber of Saunders, Populists, for regents of the state university. The platform reaffirms the national platform at Kansas City, and
arraigns the present national administration. It also opposes asset currency legislation.

The convention was marked by its harmony and at no time was there any friction over the matter of fusion.
William J. Bryan was a conspicuous
fluence was effective in carrying out
his views by the convention.

The proceedings were enlivened by addresses by Mr. Bryan and others.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 26.—The Populist convention last night renominated John L. Sullivan, present justice of the supreme court, and named Professor W. A. Jones of Adams
county and Dr. E. O. Weber of Valparaiso for regents of the state university. Fusion was easily accomplished and the ticket nominated was by acclamation, there being no opposition whatever. Sullivan is a Democrat and the other nominees Populists.

The platform reaffirms allegiance to the principles of the People's Party,
"as expressed in its national platform, but recognizes that the election this year involves no national politics."

WILL SUCCEED TAFT.

General Luke E. Wright to Be Governor General of the Philippines.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 26.—General
Luke E. Wright of Memphis, Tenn., will succeed Judge Taft as governor general of the Philippines when the latter becomes secretary of war next January, in succession to Elihu Root.

President Roosevelt last evening authorized the announcement that the post had been offered to General
Wright and that he had accepted it.

General Wright is now a member of the Philippine commission and vice governor of the islands. He is a life long Democrat.

The president and Secretary Root regard General Wright as a man of
proved executive ability, his services
as a member of the Philippine commission having been of a distinguished character and during Governor Taft's extended sojourn in this country. General Wright was acting governor general, and his conduct of the office was a source of congratulation
to the administration.

General Wright is popular, not only
with Americans in the Philippines, but also with the Filipinos, who hold him
only second in their estimation to Governor Taft.

Secretary Root, under date of Aug.
19, presented his resignation formally to the president. The resignation was accepted by the president with the understanding that Mr. Root continue as secretary at least until Jan. 1. Governor General William H. Taft of the Philippines will succeed Secretary
Root as secretary of war.

CLOUDBURST IN KANSAS.

Residents of Marysville Forced to Take Refuge in Trees.

Marysville, Kan., Aug. 26.—A cloudburst struck in this vicinity early Tuesday, causing the Big Blue river
to rise sixteen feet within a few hours
and sending a great flood of water southward down the bottoms along that stream. Many inhabitants in the lowlands were driven from their homes and heavy damage to property was done. One death by drowning is reported.

Marysville was deluged and the bottoms were filled with water from ten to fifteen feet deep. Fifty houses were almost entirely submerged, their inmates taking refuge in trees and on house tops. Seventy-five persons had been rescued in boats at daylight, and
by noon twenty others were taken to places of safety. The storm washed out the tracks on the Blue Valley
branch of the Union Pacific for several miles and wiped telegraph and telephone wires out.

A wall of water struck Vleet, a town of 1,000 on the Vermillion river, east
of here in the same county, driving the residents of the lowlands from their homes and inundating twenty-five
houses and causing property damage to the amount of $50,000.

Seneca, Marietta and Baileyville also suffered from the same storm.

FELL FROM GLACIER.

Young Ladies Meet With Serious Accident in Colorado.

Idaho Springs, Colo., Aug. 26.—Two
young women met with a painful accident on the Yankee Hill glacier near Alice, Colo., which nearly cost them
their lives.

The glacier is one of the summer
attractions here. Miss Mills of Iowa,
a tourist, and Miss Champion of this city were climbing the huge mass of ice and snow when Miss Mills lost
her footing.

She caught her companion and together they were precipitated down
the steep side of the glacier 300 feet
upon the rocks below. Miss Mills' left leg was broken and both were terribly bruised. They were seen by campers, who took them to a nearby hotel and
called a physician.

Poisoned With Arsenic.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Fan-

SENATOR HANNA TAKEN ILL.

Stomach Trouble Compels Him to Retire to His Home.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—Senator M.
A. Hanna, who has but recently returned from a several weeks' vacation, was taken so ill at his office Tuesday as to require the services of a physician. The physician stated after an examination that Mr. Hanna was suffering from stomach trouble, and advised his immediate relaxation of business and retirement to his home.
Senator Hanna immediately left for his home and last night was reported to be somewhat better than in the af-

able to take an active part in the state campaign, which begins in a few days, as he had anticipated.

BASHI-BAZOUKS DYNAMITED.

Revolutionists Kill Two Hundred and Fifty Turkish Irregulars.

Sofia, Aug. 26.—Following the departure of the Russian squadron from India, the insurgents attacked and captured a fort there. The bands are especially active around Losengrad where a number of villages have been burned. Revolutionists at Mahla attacked 250 bashi-bazouks, who entrenched themselves in a stone tower.
The revolutionists blew up the tower with dynamite at night and killed all the bashi-bazouks. The Turkish population along the Bulgarian frontier is greatly alarmed. The people have left their houses and retreated into the interior. The insurgents attacked a Turkish frontier post at Koblishas and killed thirty-six soldiers.

VESSELS IN DANGER

OTHER YACHTS.

HUGE DERRICK SWEPT INTO THE
ARE DROWNED.

New York, Aug. 26.—A terrible
northwest wind and electrical storm
struck Sandy Hook shortly after 5
o'clock Tuesday, and Shamrock III,
and a fleet of half a dozen fine yachts, including the Erin, C.
Oliver Iselin's Sunbeam and the Herreshoffs' Roamer were in great danger for a time. The yacht Eureka,
breaking from her anchorage, was
blown violently against a coal scow
and carried the scow before it. It seemed for a time that the tow boats
would crash into Shamrock III, which
lay almost in the path of the gale not
a hundred yards away, but they held
on until the wind abated.

Two steam yachts, the Giralda and the Allita, anchored further out in the Horseshoe, were torn from their anchorage and came into bow and stern
collision. The bowsprit of one
crashed through the stern of the other
and the two thus locked, drifted before the wind dangerously near to the challenger.

The tug Cruiser saved them, pulling
them apart and away from the other boats.

Reliance lay in a position more out
of danger.
The moorings of Shamrock III, and Reliance held fast, though the wind
threw their bows around into the face
hard at their cables.

Watched With Anxiety.

Sir Thomas Lipton left the Erin before the storm broke and, with Colonels
Smith, Burbank and Stewart, viewed
the havoc in the bay anxiously from
the commander's headquarters on Sandy Hook.

Lightning flashed from the inky
black sky and the wind came like a cyclonic blast. Weather observers said the wind reached a velocity of
nearly forty-five knots.

The tugs Guiding Star and Cruiser
came to the rescue of the yachts and
in a short time righted their tangled
condition.
A small fishing sloop was blown up
on the sand beach at the point of the Hook. Lifesavers went to the rescue,
taking the crew of four off in safety.
The sloop was later taken off.

At Newark, N. J., during the storm the lights in Playey's theater were extinguished and the audience, composed
mainly of women and children, became
panic-stricken and rushed for the fire
escapes, many of the women fainting
and being trampled on. Florence Kolrigel, aged six years, fell from a
fire escape platform and was probably
fatally injured. No one else was seriously hurt, and after the panic
had subsided the audience resumed
their seats.

Four Workmen Drowned.

During the height of the storm, a huge derrick on the Central railroad
of New Jersey bridge across Newark
bay from Bayonne to Elizabeth, was
swept from its supports in the water,
carrying with it nine workmen.

Four of the men were drowned and
several badly injured. At least sixty
men were at work on the bridge, at a
point about half a mile from the Bayonne shore. The top of the derrick
was 180 feet from the water and
nine men were working at various points upon the huge structure, Gustav Fisher of Bayonne being on the very
top of it. Strange to say, he was about the only one to escape injury. Fisher
realized that it was impossible for him to reach the bridge, so he clung
to the rigging, and fell into the center of the channel. When he came to the surface he swam ashore.

Mrs. John Holm and her sister, Miss
Ragna Rasmussen of Brooklyn, lost their lives in Jamaica bay. They
went sailing in a cat boat with Mr.
Holm and the boat was upset about
half a mile off shore. All three found
it impossible to reach the boat and
finally Holm started to swim ashore.
He was picked up by a sail boat. The
two women were taken from the water by a party in a steam launch, but
they died without regaining consciousness.

HOT WAVE IN THE EAST.

Ten Prostrations Reported From the City of Washington.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The temperature on the street Tuesday was the highest since July 1, 1901, the thermometer at 4 o'clock registering 94
degrees. Ten prostrations from the heat were reported. None of them is likely to prove fatal.

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—With the exception of July 9, this city Tuesday experienced the hottest weather of the
year, the temperature reaching a maximum of 94 degrees. One death was reported and a number of prostrations.
One death resulted from the heat at Pittsburg, where the thermometer registered 94, the hottest of the year.

TO COMBINE CREAMERIES.

Milwaukee Road Will Attempt to Cen-
tralize Those Along Its Route.

St. Paul, Aug. 26.—An effort is being made by the Milwaukee road to
centralize and consolidate all the country creameries along its line
throughout Minnesota, Iowa, North
and South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The plan is to interest the dairy farmers in the better manufacturing plants which are located in the large cities for their product and prompt
payments. The railroad's reward will be the tariff derived from the shipment of the cream to the city cream-
eries.

NAMES A FUSION TICKET.

Nebraska Democratic Convention Al-
so Reaffirms Kansas City Platform.

Columbus, Neb., Aug. 26.—The Democratic convention, which met here
last night, named a fusion ticket,
headed by Judge J. J. Sullivan (Dem.)
of this city, for supreme justice, and
William O. Jones of Adams county,
and Dr. E. O. Weber of Saunders,
Populists, for regents of the state university. The platform reaffirms the national platform at Kansas City, and
arraigns the present national administration. It also opposes asset currency legislation.

The convention was marked by its
harmony and at no time was there any
friction over the matter of fusion.
William J. Bryan was a conspicuous
fluence was effective in carrying out
his views by the convention.

The proceedings were enlivened by
addresses by Mr. Bryan and others.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 26.—The
Populist convention last night re-
nominated John L. Sullivan, present
justice of the supreme court, and
named Professor W. A. Jones of Adams
county and Dr. E. O. Weber of Valparaiso for regents of the state university. Fusion was easily accomplished and the ticket nominated was by
acclamation, there being no opposition
whatever. Sullivan is a Democrat and
the other nominees Populists.

The platform reaffirms allegiance to
the principles of the People's Party,
"as expressed in its national platform, but recognizes that the election
this year involves no national politics."

WILL SUCCEED TAFT.

General Luke E. Wright to Be Governor General of the Philippines.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 26.—General
Luke E. Wright of Memphis, Tenn.,
will succeed Judge Taft as governor
general of the Philippines when the
latter becomes secretary of war next
January, in succession to Elihu Root.
President Roosevelt last evening authorized the announcement that the
post had been offered to General
Wright and that he had accepted it.
General Wright is now a member of
the Philippine commission and vice
governor of the islands. He is a life long Democrat.

The president and Secretary Root
regard General Wright as a man of
proved executive ability, his services
as a member of the Philippine commission having been of a distinguished character and during Governor Taft's extended sojourn in this country, General Wright was acting governor general, and his conduct of the
office was a source of congratulation
to the administration.

General Wright is popular, not only
with Americans in the Philippines, but
also with the Filipinos, who hold him
only second in their estimation to Governor Taft.
Secretary Root, under date of Aug.
19, presented his resignation formally
to the president. The resignation was accepted by the president with the understanding that Mr. Root continue as secretary at least until Jan. 1. Governor General William H. Taft of the Philippines will succeed Secretary
Root as secretary of war.

CLOUDBURST IN KANSAS.

Residents of Marysville Forced to Take Refuge in Trees.

Marysville, Kan., Aug. 26.—A cloud-
burst struck in this vicinity early Tuesday, causing the Big Blue river
to rise sixteen feet within a few hours
and sending a great flood of water
southward down the bottoms along
that stream. Many inhabitants in the
lowlands were driven from their homes
and heavy damage to property was
done. One death by drowning is reported.

Marysville was deluged and the bot-
toms were filled with water from ten
to fifteen feet deep. Fifty houses were almost entirely submerged, their inmates taking refuge in trees and on house tops. Seventy-five persons had
been rescued in boats at daylight, and
by noon twenty others were taken to
places of safety. The storm washed
out the tracks on the Blue Valley
branch of the Union Pacific for several
miles and wiped telegraph and telephone wires out.

A wall of water struck Vleit, a town
of 1,000 on the Vermillion river, east
of here in the same county, driving the
residents of the lowlands from their homes and inundating twenty-five
houses and causing property damage
to the amount of $50,000.

Seneca, Marietta and Baileyville also suffered from the same storm.

FELL FROM GLACIER.

Young Ladies Meet With Serious Accident in Colorado.

Idaho Springs, Colo., Aug. 26.—Two
young women met with a painful accident on the Yankee Hill glacier near Alice, Colo., which nearly cost them
their lives.

The glacier is one of the summer
attractions here. Miss Mills of Iowa,
a tourist, and Miss Champion of this
city were climbing the huge mass of
ice and snow when Miss Mills lost
her footing.

She caught her companion and together they were precipitated down
the steep side of the glacier 300 feet
leg was broken and both were terribly
bruised. They were seen by campers,
who took them to a nearby hotel and
called a physician.
